

Sacred Ground – what we can do for healthy soil and a healthy planet

Earth Day, Thursday April 22, 7 – 8:30pm

How we manage our lands and grow our foods can heal the planet. This public workshop will explore the role of regenerative agriculture, what we can do in our own backyards and how we can expand healthy soils for carbon sequestration to heal the planet.

The panel will include Tim LaSalle, co-founder, Center for Regenerative Agriculture & Resilient Systems, Adjunct Professor of Agriculture, CSU Chico; Teresa “Tree” Lees, garden educator; and Greg Haas, District Representative, Congressman Salud Carbajal, (CA 24th District, member of House Committee on Agriculture)
