

A broad community-based charitable organization focused on refugee resettlement, operating with compassion, integrity and inclusion and seeking to assure successful integration of refugees.

Support Today

You can be a lifeline for refugee families in need. In the coming months and years, more than 65,000 Afghans will be welcomed in communities across the United States. These families have urgent and varied needs, many having left vibrant lives with only what they could carry. We are working to ensure San Luis Obispo will be a welcoming and supportive new home for the families who will arrive in the months ahead. We cannot do this without your help.

About SLO4Home

SLO4Home is a 501c3 formed to support and welcome families and children resettling as refugees following evacuation. Your support gives us the ability to purchase critical items for families at the moment that they need them most. Funds will be used to purchase items to make new arrival family's homes functional and comfortable for their family, connect them to healthcare and employment services, as well as assist enroll children in school as they begin to rebuild their lives in the U.S.

Why Now?

Many of the people who will be resettled worked directly with the U.S. during its 20-year mission in Afghanistan, including across military, diplomatic, and development efforts, or are a family member of someone who did. Thousands more worked as journalists, human rights activists, or humanitarian workers and had careers that put them at risk and eligible for visas. We have an opportunity to step up as a community - easing their transition is one small way to thank them for their service and sacrifice.

Current Partnerships

Approved by the U.S. Department of State to resettle refugees and has done so since WWII.

Intends to offer visiting professorships, research positions, etc. to Afghan scholars.

Morgan Boyd, a local U.S. Army Veteran who served in Afghanistan, is working with a team to evacuate and resettle people still hiding in Afghanistan.

We are actively seeking additional supporters and volunteers. If your organization can partner with us, please email info@slo4home.org
